The Decision letter indicated insufficiency of evidence to show unintentional delay for periods (1) and (2). The Petitioner hereby submits additional evidence in support of unintentional delay for periods (1) and (2).

Declarations are from responsible persons having firsthand knowledge of the circumstances surrounding this application.

Declarations Attached

Declaration of Pei Chun Hsu (Representative of Assignee, ITRI)

Declaration of Daisy Wang (The law firm of Lee & Li)

Declaration of Bo-Sen Von (The law firm of Lee & Li)

Declaration of Po-Chih Lin (The law firm of Lee & Li)

Declaration of Eugene Su (The law firm of Lee & Li)

Declaration of Serena Lin (The law firm of Lee & Li)

Declaration of Belinda Yen (The law firm of Lee & Li)

Declaration of Shumei Chang (The law firm of Lee & Li)

Declaration of Anthony King (The law firm of WPAT, P.C.)

Summary of Events

Late 1999 to early 2000: As evidenced, the law firm of Lee & Li and the Law firm of Liauh and Associates were preparing to timely submit a response to the Office Action.

In 2005 and 2007: As evidenced, the law firm of Lee & Li sought status update of this application from Mr. Liauh.

In 2005 and 2007: As evidenced, the Petitioner was not aware of the abandonment status.

In 2008: As evidenced, the law firm of Lee & Li sought assistance from another U.S. patent law firm (Mr. Anthony King of WPAT, P.C.) to retrieve status update of this application.

September, 2008: The law firm of Lee & Li first became aware of the abandonment status.

November, 2008: The law firm of Lee & Li instructed Mr. King to prepare Petition to Revive and Request for Continued Examination.

January, 2009: Petition to Revive and Request for Continued Examination filed.

As for period (1):

The enclosed signed Declarations support that the delay in reply that originally resulted in the abandonment was unintentional.

Specifically, signed Declarations and copies of correspondence between the Petitioner's legal representative in Taiwan (the Law Offices of Lee & Li) and the Petitioner's U.S. patent attorney (Mr. W. Wayne Liauh of Law Office of Liauh and Associates) show that a reply was prepared to be submitted to the USPTO.

The evidence show that legal analysis was performed, prior art was reviewed, and instruction was given to the U.S. patent attorney by the Law Offices of Lee & Li. The U.S. patent attorney (Mr. W. Wayne Liauh) also confirmed receipt of the instruction to submit the reply.

There is no evidence of any intent from any party to delay in replying to the outstanding Office Action.

As for period (2):

The enclosed signed Declarations support that the delay in filing an initial petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) to revive the application was unintentional.

Declarations submitted herein are from responsible persons having firsthand knowledge of the circumstances surrounding this delay in filing the Petition to Revive.

Specifically, signed Declarations and copies of correspondence between personnel within the Law Offices of Lee & Li, show that the Petitioner and its legal representative in Taiwan was not aware of the abandonment. Further, the Declaration and other evidence show that the Petitioner and its legal representative in Taiwan acted, reasonably, as if the application was still pending for all these years.

Also, signed Declarations show that the Petitioner's legal representative in Taiwan first became aware of the abandonment on September 17, 2008.

Evidence also shows that the Petitioner acted promptly after becoming aware of the abandonment. Hence, there was not a protracted delay in filing the Petition to Revive.

Evidence also shows how the delay in discovering the abandoned status of the application occurred despite the exercise of the due care or diligence on the part of the Petitioner.

There is no evidence of any intent from any party to delay in filing an initial petition pursuant to 37 CFR 1.137(b) to revive the application.

Absence of Statements from the Law Office of Liauh & Associates

The Decision Letter requests statements from Mr. Liauh and responsible persons from the Law Office of Liauh & Associates.

The Petitioner submits that Mr. Liauh and his Law Office cannot be reached for statements and Declarations. The Petitioner further submits that there is no indication (even now) that Mr. Liauh intended to abandon or cause delay relating to this application. In fact, every time Mr. Liauh was reached by phone, he commented that he will reply back to us once he is back in his office.

Conclusion

In all, the Petitioner submits that the entire delay was unintentional and unavoidable.

Respectfully submitted,
WPAT, P.C.

DECLARATION FOR

PETITION TO REVIVE BASED ON UNINTENTIONAL DELAY

under 37 C.F.R. § 1.137(b)

STATEMENT OF UNINTENTIONAL DELAY

I, Anthony S. King, the applicant's newly assigned U.S. prosecuting attorney, through firsthand knowledge, hereby declare the following:

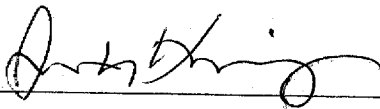

1. Mr. Po-Chih Lin of the law firm of Lee & Li (the applicant's patent prosecution firm in Taiwan) contacted me in September of 2008, asking me to check the status of the above-captioned application which was filed by another U.S. patent attorney.
2. I asked my legal secretary, Ms. Elaine Hong, to find the status of the above-captioned application. Ms. Hong told me she attempted to call Mr. Liauh, the attorney of record, but no one answered her calls.
3. I also tried to call Mr. Liauh in late 2008, but was unable to reach him after at least four phone calls. During one of the phone calls, a man answered the call with a "hello," and I asked for "Mr. Wayne Liauh." The man said that he is Wayne Liauh. When I inquired about this application, he did not answer but indicated that he will have to call me back. I tried to call Mr. Liauh at least twice after this phone call, and he did not answer each time I called.

4. At my instruction, Ms. Hong checked Mr. Liauh's Hawaiian bar status, and I saw it on Ms. Hong's computer screen. Mr. Liauh's Hawaiian bar status was shown as "active."
5. During my brief telephone conversation with Mr. Liauh, Mr. Liauh did not indicate the intent to abandon this application. Mr. Liauh also did not express the intent to abandon his practice.
6. On November 18, 2008, Mr. Lin instructed me to file a Petition to Revive.
7. On December 21, 2008, Mr. Lin provided me with comments regarding a response to the outstanding Final Office Action.
8. During the January of 2009, I drafted a Request for Continued Examination based on Mr. Lin's comments and instruction for claim amendment.
9. The Power of Attorney on the current application was successful transferred to me on January 14, 2009.
10. On January 14, 2009, I submitted the Request for Continued Examination along with the Petition to Revive, and advised Mr. Lin that the Patent Office might ask for more evidence, but that we should submit what we have and see.
11. After we received the Petition Decision letter dated July 1, 2009, we forwarded a copy to Mr. Lin.
12. On July 7, 2009, I emailed Mr. Lin and advised him on what additional evidence to gather, and gave examples of helpful evidence.
13. On July 18, 2009, I checked with Mr. Lin and he indicated that they are in the process of gathering additional evidence.
14. On August 14, 2009, I received additional evidence by e-mail from Mr. Lin.

15. It is through my firsthand knowledge that there has been no delay in submitting the Petition to Revive since the time we discovered the status of this application. I took reasonable time to investigate the status of the case, to contact the attorney of record, to inform the applicant's representative in Taiwan, and to draft and submit needed Office Action response and Petition. Once we received the notice from the Patent Office regarding insufficiency of the evidence, we took reasonable time to inform the applicant's representative in Taiwan, to advise them about needed evidence, to draft appropriate Declarations base on facts gathered by the applicant's representative in Taiwan, and to have all Declarations signed and submitted to the Patent Office.
16. During my representation of this application, no one I communicated with indicated the intent to abandon this application.
17. During my representation of this client, I exercised due diligence in finding the status of this application. I did not intentionally delay the submission of any required papers to the USPTO for continued prosecution and/or revival of this application.
18. I hereby state that the delay (since discovering the status of abandonment) in filing the Petition and the required response to the Final Office Action was unintentional.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein are true, and that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

DECLARATION FOR
PETITION TO REVIVE BASED ON UNINTENTIONAL DELAY
under 37 C.F.R. § 1.137(b)
STATEMENT OF UNINTENTIONAL DELAY

I, Serena Lin, hereby declare the following:

1. I am employed at the Law Firm of Lee & Li located in Taiwan, handling patent related matters.
2. Mr. W. Wayne Liauh and his associated law firm, Law Office of Liauh & Associates in Honolulu, Hawaii, was one of many foreign associates that we use when the assignee of this patent application (Industrial Technology Research Institute) files patent applications in the USA. We did not have much contact with Mr. W. Wayne Liauh and his associated law firm before we started filing patent applications for Industrial Technology Research Institute.
3. In the regular course of business, we depend on our foreign associates (in this case, the foreign associate is Mr. Liauh and the Law Office of Liauh & Associates in Honolulu, Hawaii) to inform us when status changes on an application. We provide instructions to our foreign associates with respect to replying to patent offices, when replies are necessary. We also depend on our foreign associates to submit such replies to the patent office.

4. It is customary that we depend on our foreign associates to keep each application alive, and to inform us whenever status of an application changes.
5. In October of 2007, my colleague, Mr. Po-Chih Lin asked that I prepare a Status Report for our client, Industrial Technology Research Institute.
6. In October of 2007, I prepared a Status Report (please see Exhibit H) for Industrial Technology Research Institute based on status information I found in our record for this patent application we handled for Industrial Technology Research Institute.
7. In the regular course of business, unless we receive opposite Status Reports from our foreign associates, we believe the applications are still kept alive. Therefore, the October 2007 Status Report indicated that the above-captioned application was still pending.
8. In October of 2007, I discovered, while preparing the Status Report and from reviewing our record, that Mr. Liauh had not given us any status update on the above-captioned application since 2000.
9. In November of 2007, I sent a fax to Mr. Liauh, requesting status update on the above-captioned application. This fax did not go through successfully. At the time, I suspected an error in the fax number.
10. Exhibit K is a copy of e-mail record relating to the above-captioned application.
11. I was actively involved in e-mail exchanges (as shown in Exhibit K) relating to the above-captioned application. My initials are "SER" in this e-mail record.
12. As shown in Exhibit K, on November 02, 2007 (2:34 PM), my colleague, Ms. Belinda Yen of Knowledge Management Department (initials "YYT") after conducting internet searches on Mr. Liauh, wrote me and indicated that she could not find the fax or mail of Mr. Liauh's law firm. She indicated that she found Mr. Liauh's e-mail address (LiauhW001@Hawaii.rr.com).

13. As shown in Exhibit K, on November 02, 2007 (2:42 PM), I replied to Ms. Yen and told her that I already tried that e-mail address, and it could not be delivered. I told her my guess was that the e-mail account was closed. In the same reply I also pasted a message from the e-mail server indicating that Mr. Liauh's e-mail address was in error.
14. As shown in Exhibit K, on November 02, 2007 (15:00), Ms. Belinda Yen wrote me and indicated that she found a different phone number for Mr. Liauh.
15. On November 6, 2007, I called Ms. Hsu of the Industrial Technology Research Institute and reported that I cannot find any status information from the USPTO website because this application is not available on Public PAIRS. I asked Ms. Hsu if she had Mr. Liauh's updated contact information. Ms. Hsu answered that they had not received Mr. Liauh's reports for their other patent matters either. Ms. Hsu asked us to provide her with Mr. Liauh's updated contact information once we learned that.
16. As shown in the upper right hand corner of Exhibit K, it is my handwritten notes in the record, the rough translation of my notes is:

“11/8 , 10:30 Called Mr. Liauh and asked him to quickly provide us case status, updated e-mail address, and fax number. He said he was not in the office, and will need some time to reply back to me.”
17. Exhibit L is a copy of e-mail record relating to the above-captioned application.
18. I was actively involved in e-mail exchanges (as shown in Exhibit L) relating to the above-captioned application. My initials are “SER” in this e-mail record.
19. As shown in Exhibit L, on May 27, 2008 (14:41), I replied to my colleague Amy Chang and told her that “we are trying to contact the US attorney who has not updated us the status of the application since 2000....” Soon after that, I asked another colleague, Shumei Chang, to assist in checking the status of the above-captioned application. At 16:30, Shumei Chang called Mr. Liauh, and Mr. Liauh answered that he would call us back soon. He did not call us back, however.

20. At the time of both e-mail exchanges (November 2007, Exhibit K; and May 2008, Exhibit L), no one I communicated with indicated an intent to abandon this application.
21. At the time of both e-mail exchanges (November 2007, Exhibit K; and May 2008, Exhibit L), I exercised due diligence in finding the status of this application from Mr. Liauh. I did not intentionally delay the submission of any required papers to the USPTO for continued prosecution and/or revival of this application.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein are true, and that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.

Art Unit: 3627

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. The numbering of claims is not accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 1-4 in the amendment submitted 8/24/99 have been renumbered 5-8 respectively. Original claims 1-4 are presumed to be replaced by claims 5-8, thus claims 1-4 have been withdrawn from consideration and should be canceled. Applicant should refer to the claims as renumbered (1-8) in future correspondence.

2. Claim 5 is objected to because of the following informalities: line 5, before "wedged" insert --a--; line 15 after "plate" insert --to--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3627

4. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 5-8 recite a cover, linked plate, driving wheel and bottom each with a first face and a second face. The claims must be clear which element is referred to when reciting a first face or second face to avoid confusion. For example:

Claim 5, lines 7-8, after "second face" insert --of the linked plate--;

Claim 5, line 8, after "first face" insert --of the linked plate--;

Claim 5, line 13, after "first face" insert --of the driving wheel--;

Claim 6, line 3, after "first face" insert --of the bottom--;

- ✓ 5. Claim 5 recites the limitation "the wedged ramp of the second face of the linked plate" in lines 11-12. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim (replace "the second face of the linked plate" with --base--).
6. Claim 8 recites the limitation "the second face of the sealing gasket" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 5-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Pat.

No. 5,743,424 to Murata et al. in view of U.S. Pat. No. 1,273,625 to Lane and U.S. Pat. No. 5,599,028 to Neumann et al.

Murata discloses a mechanically actuated airtight device comprising a cover (9A) with at least one hole (35) therethrough, a sealing gasket (40) with a base (44) forming a through opening. Murata discloses a linked plate (22) and a driving wheel (21). Murata discloses a bottom (9B) under the driving wheel and engaged with the cover. The Gasket has a rim (41) in the first face.

Murata does not disclose a protuberance on the link plate and a guiding groove on the driving wheel, rather Murata discloses the protuberance (25) on the driving wheel and the groove (22) on the link plate. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to reverse the location of the protuberance and guiding groove, since it has been held that a mere reversal of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. In re Einstein, 8 USPQ 167.

Murata does not disclose a wedged ramp on the base of the gasket and a wedged ramp on the linked plate, the wedged ramps mating with equal slopes. However, wedged ramps on the base of gaskets are well known as taught by Neumann. Furthermore, Lane discloses mating wedged ramps (5, 7) with equal slopes (see fig. 3) for solving the problem of converting horizontal movement to vertical movement. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine a seal having a base in a form of a wedged ramp as taught by Neumann and wedged ramps with mating equal slopes as taught by Lane with the device of Murata, to convert the horizontal motion of the linked plate into vertical motion. The use of wedged ramps as disclosed by Lane is a well known method of converting horizontal motion into vertical motion. Murata discloses that optional methods for converting horizontal motion to vertical motion can be used (col. 7, lines 33-36).

Regarding claim 8, the wedged ramp disclosed by Neumann is made of elastomeric material.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3627

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments filed 8/24/99 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

In response to Applicant's piecemeal analysis of the references, it has been held that one cannot show non-obviousness by attacking references individually where, as here, the rejections are based on combinations of references. In re Keller, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981).

11. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Cliff Vaterlaus whose telephone number is (703)306-9177. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, BethAnne Dayoan, can be reached at (703) 308-3865.

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3620's facsimile number is (703) 305-3597. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01.

Art Unit: 3627

In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission.

Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitted by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 305-3597) on ____ (Date) ____

(Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate)

(Signature)

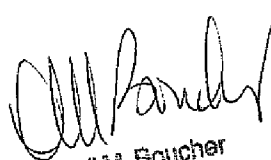

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Art Unit: 3627

Communications via Internet e-mail regarding this application, other than those under 35 U.S.C. 132 or which otherwise require a signature, may be used by the applicant and should be directed to bethanne.dayoan@uspto.gov.

All Internet e-mail communications will be made of record in the application file. PTO employees do not engage in Internet communications where there exists a possibility that sensitive information could be identified or exchanged unless the record includes a properly signed express waiver of the confidentiality requirements of 35 U.S.C. 122. This is more clearly set forth in the Interim Usage Policy published in the Official Gazette of the Patent and Trademark on February 25, 1997 at 1195 OG 89.

Any inquiry of a general nature relating to the status of this application should be directed to the group receptionist at (703) 308-2168.

Dear Mr. Baysdell:

Following our fax dated January 15, we enclose our proposed argumentation for your reference in the preparation of the response to the Final Office Action. As the time limit, May 9, for the response is pressing, we apologize for the late instructions.

As advised in our above fax, we believe that you have been in the process of amending the specification and the claims so as to overcome the objections raised in the Office Action. You may find that the proposed argumentation was made only to the cited prior U.S. Patent Nos. 3,630,089 and 5,599,028 that were new citations and were just raised in the Final Office Action. In our opinion, U.S. Patent Nos. 1,273,625 and 5,743,424 previously cited had been carefully dealt with in the last Office Action (please refer to our letter dated 10 August 1999).

This is to acknowledge receipt of your e-mail and the Word document attached therewith.

RH/VH/50R/PR

Because Word documents are notorious for carrying macro virus, which can often escape detections by anti-virus software programs, we strongly suggest that, in order to save our time (and your potential liability for that matter), your attached file be saved as an ASCII or WordPerfect file. The latter is preferred if your document contains formatting such as underlining, italicizing, etc. which needs to be retained.

We apologize for having to mention the above to you as it is our office policy that no Word document can be opened unless it is approved by a network administrator. We are gravely concerned about our own liability should we allow a Trojan-horse type Word macro to enter our system and transmit our confidential client information to unintended parties.

I am sure you have a very tight security policy in place at Lee and Li; however, because the potential liability is so grave, as a precautionary measure, we are sending the same message to everyone from whom we often receive Microsoft Word file(s) as attachment.
